

COLLEGE OF HEALTH PROFESSIONS

WGU is excited to announce a new MSN Family Nurse Practitioner degree program! The first students have started, and we're now accepting applications from WGU alumni of our undergraduate nursing programs from the following states: Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Texas, and Utah. We will be accepting non-returning WGU graduate applications in Fall 2020. We anticipate opening to more states this year along with the addition of a post-MSN FNP certificate program in 2021 in the same states. We will continue to share updates.

Interested in learning more? Email msnfnpinfo@wgu.edu for the MSN FNP degree program or postmsnfnpinfo@wgu.edu for the post-MSN FNP certificate program.

In other news, WGU has developed a partnership between the National Association for Healthcare Quality (NAHQ) and the College of Health Professions. Individuals who have earned the Certified Professional in Healthcare Quality (CPHQ) certification are being offered advanced placement into the Master of Health Leadership (MHL) degree program. The certification removes two courses from the standard pathway. This affiliation agreement further enriches an already-established relationship that was created for the Master of Science in Nursing-Leadership and

Consider a BSHSC Degree

The College of Health Professions launched a Bachelor of Science Health Services Coordination \(BSHSC\) program in 2019. This degree offers individuals an opportunity to help others without needing to provide direct patient care. The BSHSC degree prepares an individual to assist patients and families by advocating to execute the care plans that were created by health providers, nurses, or case managers found in many environments, including: acute care hospitals, extended stay facilities such as nursing homes or assisted living facilities, ambulatory care, home care and home health companies, wellness and outreach, and behavioral health facilities.
